FOODINTEGRITY 2017 conference

Dates: May 10-11, 2017

Location: Starhotel Du Parc, Parma, Italy

Access website

The conference involves the partners of the FOODINTEGRITY research project financed by the European Commission, representing over 25 countries, opening their annual event to all interested stakeholders. The 2-day conference will be organised with plenary lectures, parallel sessions and workshops, poster exhibitions and opportunities for young researchers.

Set in Parma, in the heart of the Food Valley in Italy, the conference will offer to participants the possibility of learning about the most recent scientific advances for protecting food authenticity and defending food chain integrity. The collection of abstracts for presentations and posters will be open until March: read more in the website <http://foodintegrity2017-parma.eu/>.
